

Winter Intro Alpine Mountaineering '19

- This is our most popular winter course, and it's easy to see why. It is designed to launch your winter mountaineering career, and you'll develop skills for ice climbing and alpinism too.
- Even with no previous climbing experience, by the end of the week you should have climbed grade 3 or 4 waterfall ice, and a famous Alpine PD / AD route in full winter conditions.
- This course is suitable both for Alpine novices and for those who want to learn waterfall ice climbing (such as those who have attended a Scottish introductory or a summer Alpine introductory course). The itinerary is flexible at the end of the week.
- Technical skills taught on the course include glacier travel, ice climbing, crevasse rescue, ice axe belays and anchors, ropework, crampon and ice axe use, avalanche prediction and using ARVA's (avalanche transceivers), and equipment selection.
- A principal feature of this course are the evening theory sessions, where you learn the background theory, so that the daylight hours are optimised for your climbing time. You learn key skills of waterfall ice climbing and mountaineering, and there is the option of a night in a mountain hut, if you select a route where an Alpine start is required. If you'd prefer not to stay in a hut, don't worry as valley accommodation is provided anyway.

Course summary and key details

- There is a focus through the week on selecting routes in reaction to the avalanche forecasts each day, and each day you will need to be equipped with avalanche transceiver, probe and shovel.
- We have designed the course to provide a good balance between you learning skills and getting the opportunity to climb Alpine and ice routes, so that you get the best of both worlds.
- The last two days of the course are deliberately flexible, to allow you to select the types of routes that you would like to climb. There is also the option of two days climbing with a night in a mountain hut with your Guide (you pay for the hut for you / guide). Obviously weather and conditions will play their part, but the choice is yours.
- Many people cite booking on this course, as they prefer to come to the Alps to learn these skills, rather than battle against unpredictable conditions in Scotland. Also you have glaciers in the Alps!
- Another focus of the course is on the selection of equipment, so you build up an understanding of what equipment to select for different types of routes, and also what you should take as your core kit.
- Our course hosts in Chamonix give daily evening instruction sessions (optional) and the guides meet you each day to brief you on conditions and activities for that day.
- As Icicle have experienced Chamonix Course hosts based there throughout the year, we have excellent local contacts and a detailed knowledge of route options and local conditions to optimise your climbing time.

Testimonials

"Thank you for an exceptional week, it was a long held ambition to climb in the Alps, and to do so with such a knowledgeable and skilled team made the experience all the more," Kevin M

"Just a quick note to say thanks for a great time on the Winter Intro course last week. Your help and support was first class, the guiding was excellent and you even ordered good weather!" Craig W

Course daily itinerary & objectives

Please note that whilst the itinerary is flexible to allow for the weather and conditions, as well as your skills, fitness, experience and acclimatisation.

Sunday

Travel to Chamonix to arrive for the 17:00 check-in followed by and course safety and itinerary briefings. There is time for kit checks or rental of equipment. Chamonix hosts accompany the group to pre-dinner drinks. Night in Chamonix.

Monday – Guiding ratio 1:6 (max)

The focus of the day is on learning key winter skills including route choice, with a focus on avalanche awareness and prediction. You will examine show profiles, perform stability tests, and learn how to use avalanche transceivers, and develop winter navigation skills including using altimeters. Night in Chamonix.

Tuesday – Guiding ratio 1:6 (max)

Day to develop and practice using crampons and ice axes on a glacier such as the Mer de Glace glacier at 2000m. You also climb vertical ice, create ice anchors, and learn glacier travel skills. Night in Chamonix.

Wednesday – Guiding ratio 1:6 (max)

Day of waterfall ice climbing, to develop your technical skills. You'll be climbing with a pair of technical ice axes (loaned for free) on steeper ice, and will learn skills including placing ice screws, building anchors, and ropework. Typically you go to a venue such as La Cremerie or Les Contamines, where there are options for setting up several top ropes on a range of ice climbs. Night in Chamonix.

Thursday – Guiding ratio 1:2 (max)

Thursday and on Friday, you have two days of small guiding ratios (1:2 max) for your choice of either mountaineering or waterfall ice climbing. You can choose the objective, dependant on conditions. There is also the option of spending a night in a mountain hut (not included). Night in Chamonix / hut.

Friday – Guiding ratio 1:2 (max)

Your second day of small guiding ratios (1:2 max), to select another route. Popular objectives for technical multi-pitch ice climbs are Deferlante, Mini Couloir and EMHM. In the evening there are optional drinks and then a celebratory meal. Night in Chamonix.

Saturday

Breakfast, then accommodation check out at 10:00, then you depart for home.

ITINERARY NOTES: Where possible we follow itineraries. Mountain adventures are weather and conditions dependant, so occasionally we are forced to alter the plans. If this is the case, suitable alternatives are offered. Please use this outline as a guide to the types of activity that you will attempt.

Windermere mountain store (UK)

A key part of choosing a company is being able to come and talk about your plans with an experienced course advisor face to face. In an increasingly virtual world, we know our clients value speaking to real people, getting open and honest advice. The vast majority of our clients are British, and our office and outdoor store is based in Windermere in the English Lake District.

Get in contact to arrange a meeting, and come in for a coffee to discuss your course in person with a trip advisor. We are keen to ensure that you are as prepared as possible, and that you select a course that is suitable for you. It makes it easier and more enjoyable for you and us, if you are on the right trip. As well as talking through your course, most clients have queries about the kit they will require, so as to avoid expensive mistakes, and we can show you some examples of kit to consider. Others have training queries, about how to best prepare for your trip, and we will be able to steer you in the right direction. No question is too silly, and we'll have heard them all before, so don't worry!

By now you'll have got the idea that an integral part of booking is the ability to get good, knowledgeable, advice, and a highly personal service. Some people do just book online, but we are there every step of the way to walk you from the initial enquiry, right through to your course. Unlike some companies that only exist virtually in cyberspace, we are staffed by real people, in a real office, who offer real honest advice. Because we are tangible, we are accountable, and we take great pride in that and the high standards of service that we offer you.

Why travel with Icicle in the Alps

- Our Mission... To have the best safety and peak summiting records of any mountain and ski guiding company in the whole world.
- Our Aim... To exceed the expectations of each client, to realise their ambitions, and to provide the best quality experiences possible.
- Our Environment... We aim to minimise our environmental impact, and to preserve, improve & promote the responsible use of the mountains.
- Our Ethos... We know every single client has individual needs, strengths, aims, weaknesses, ambitions, and goals. We care about each one.
- Your Money... We have taken every step to protect you on the mountain, and in your pocket. Funds paid to us are held in trust until you return home.

How to book a course with Icicle

On the front page of the Icicle website there is a course 'Live Availability' button which links to a page that is updated with each booking to show the number of spaces available on each advertised date of each course. The number shown in brackets on this page is the number of places still available on the date.

To book a trip you complete the secure online booking form on the website, which is protected by SSL encryption, so you can input card details and pay safely over the internet. You can list up to four people on one booking form, but if members of a group live at different addresses, or wish to pay the balance separately, it is worth completing a form separately so that you each receive the confirmation email, and the information and payment reminder emails. When you submit the form you will receive automatic confirmation with a receipt, course specific kit list, and a course information booklet with useful information.

Icicle background and key features

- Established in 2000, Icicle is a UK company, and although our trips are for English speakers, our client base is worldwide. Icicle has firmly established itself as one of the leading mountain guiding operators in the UK.
- We are proud to still be a small specialist company who have a very personal approach. It allows us to really support each of our clients. The attention to detail, local Alpine support team, and work ethic sets us apart.
- All of our Alpine courses are all led by professional guides (IFMGA / UIMLA), as our priority is your safety and quality guiding. We focus on instructional courses, and our local knowledge is second to none. Our contacts and staff always aim to 'make it happen' for you.
- We keep all our overheads low, such as our office being paid for by it also being a retail shop. We also don't spend lots of (your) money shouting about how good we are, and haven't got the flashiest website or glossiest brochure. We offer you great value without sacrificing standards.
- What differentiates us is that we have a highly personalised, flexible and friendly, approach to our courses. This flexibility is essential to maximise your achievements. We aim to offer you great and innovative trips that we would dream of going on ourselves.

Your complete financial protection

We have a moral as well as a legal obligation to protect your money, data and online security when you book onto an Icicle course. We want you to be totally confident that we are a bona fide company whose financial conduct has been assessed, and who follow a strict code of practice to protect your money. Your booking is protected by our bonding with the Travel Trust Association U3307. This bonding fully complies with the 1992 Package Travel Regulations, and guidelines proposed by the Department of Trade and Industry to protect clients on package holidays. All monies that you pay to Icicle are held in trust until after your course has ended. This protects you in the highly unlikely event of our insolvency, and all monies paid by you are insured. We are also registered with the ICO for Data Protection. Our online payments system is with RBS, who have verified the security of our system with their independent tests.

Course mountain activity insurance

It is a condition of booking onto any of our trips, that all clients have sufficient activities insurance. This is to protect you in case of any requirement for medical or hospital treatment, mountain search and rescue, and in case you have to cancel your course due to injury or personal circumstances. Your documentary proof of cover is checked at the start of the week before you start any of the guiding. It must be written in English, and specify that it covers you for all of the activities you plan to undertake (see your detailed itinerary on the website). If you are a UK resident, we recommend arranging insurance through Snowcard or the BMC. If you are not a UK resident we recommend arranging insurance through the Austrian Alpine Club (although this does not cover you for cancellation or curtailment so you should get extra cover for this).

Arranging travel to Alpine courses

All of the Alpine trips are offered on a 'Land Only' basis meaning that you need to arrange separate travel to the start of the trip. Although Icicle does hold an ATOL licence and so can arrange flights on behalf of clients, most people find that it is easier to arrange flights through discount airlines. For a range of flight options (including budget) we recommend: www.skyscanner.net. There is also a Eurostar service from London to Geneva (see: www.eurostar.com). For courses that meet in Chamonix, airport transfers can be booked from Geneva airport to Chamonix to match your flights for c. 30 euros per person each way.

Icycle guides & their qualifications

We are a small company, and our team is everything to us. The guides have responsibility for all decisions taken on the mountain and to ensure your safety. Whilst we are fortunate to have an excellent mountain team, we also have a superb office team who arrange the logistics that make the trips run smoothly.

The IFMGA Mountain Guide qualification is the highest qualification that is recognised for leading groups, and the only people who lead any of our skiing or climbing courses in the Alps. IFMGA stands for the International Federation of Mountain Guide Associations. All of our IFMGA Guides hold the International Mountain Guide carnet, and have been selected for their leadership style, personality, and sense of humour, not to mention the fact that they aren't too bad at climbing and skiing either!

All of the Alpine trekking and snow-shoeing courses are run by UIMLA mid mountain guides. These two qualifications are your guarantee of the highest standards and professionalism, and the holders of these qualifications wear their badges with pride. Rest assured that you are being led in the mountains by the best. Our itineraries are planned with guide to client ratios within the safety guidelines outlined by the IFMGA and UIMLA. Each course itinerary states these daily guiding ratios.

We strongly believe that a badge or qualification does not make a good leader, which is why we carefully hand pick our guiding team. However you have our guarantee that all our courses are led by verified highly qualified professionals, as this is a legal requirement in the Alps. Note that for trips outside the Alps, the IFMGA or UIMLA qualification is not a legal requirement, and local guides are used. This is normal practice on peaks including Kilimanjaro, Elbrus, the Atlas and the Himalayas. In the UK no qualifications are legally required, but we follow best practice and all leaders on our UK trips are suitably qualified.

Accommodation: valley/mountain

When on an Icycle course the details of where you will stay will be included in your detailed itinerary. For Chamonix based Alpine courses you are usually based in the valley in one of three types of accommodation; a self-catering studio flat, a chalet or a hotel. Accommodation is on a bed & continental breakfast basis, and all bedding (linen and towels) and any tourist taxes are included. There is a choice of B&B (always included) or half board (upgrade) in the valley, and the accommodation is usually two or three people sharing. In some trekking courses a packed lunch is also included and this will be a sandwich with two cereal / snack bars per person (see itinerary for inclusions).

In mountain huts you always stay on a half board basis, where there is a hut guardian who cooks the evening meal so you do not need crockery, pans or cutlery, with the exception of some hut winter rooms (see itinerary for details). Blankets are provided in mountain huts so you should take a sleeping bag liner for hygiene (silk or cotton), but you do not normally need a sleeping bag / mat.

Course client equipment discount

Once you have booked, you will be sent a catalogue of all the preferential rate equipment and clothing that you can buy in our Windermere shop. We offer 15% OFF equipment and clothing. There is also a selection of books and maps. Orders over £30 are posted free to any UK address. Our shop also stocks a wide range of rental kit for use in the UK or on any of our Alpine courses.
